Author engagement

Last week, Class 3/4 and Class 4 both received posts on Twitter (X) from the authors of their respective guided reading books. The authors were very impressed with the work they were doing and want to keep in touch regarding further tasks:

P.G. Bell @petergbell · Jan 16
One of the most satisfying things a children's author can see, is young readers enjoying their books. Huge thanks to Class 3/4 for stepping into the Impossible Places with Suzy and the crew.

Endsleigh Holy Child @EndsleighHoly · Jan 16
Class 3/4 are thoroughly enjoying reading our new book online "A Train to Impossible Places" by P.G.Bell @petergbell. We have created new blurbs and predicted different scenarios! This book has definitely opened up our imaginations.

Tony Bradman @tbradman · Jan 15
That's great - sounds like some really good work is going on! You'll have to let me know what they come up with... and what they think of the book! @WalkerBooksUK @TheAgencyBooks

Class 4 are thoroughly enjoying making their prediction as to what will happen in @tbradman's Anglo-Saxon boy. Will Magnus thrive as he takes his role centre stage? We will find out soon enough.

Well done Lower Key Stage 2!

Upcoming Sporting Events

Across this term we have entered into a range of events across the school. Our pupils will be participating in a range of activities such as: New Age Kurling, Dodgeball, Netball, Athletics, Football and Disney Ball Sports. Last term we entered on average one event a week and want to keep this consistency up as part of our personal development.

After School Clubs

It was great to see so many well attended after school clubs on their return last week. We do have waiting lists so even in full, please do let the office know and we can place names on waiting lists.

Prodigy Maths & Times Table Rock Stars

Prodigy Maths is our current big focus with home engagement for the pupils and we have seen success already, with Class 3 & Class 3/4 earning national awards. Make sure you ask your children about Prodigy and they will be able to log in and show you what it is all about.
